Invitation: MIKOSS Lecture

Forced migrant families' assemblages of care and social protection between solidarity and inequality

Prof. Dr. Anna Amelina
(BTU Cottbus-Senftenberg)

You are cordially invited to the third lecture in the context of the research project “Migrant organizations and the co-production of social protection” (MIKOSS) by Prof. Dr. Anna Amelina (BTU Cottbus). The lecture will take place on Friday, 15th July 2022 from 10:00 until 12:00 in English via Zoom.

This presentation will address the ways forced migrant families strategize in organizing issues of care and social protection. It builds on empirical work with families from Syria and Afghanistan who arrived in Germany since 2015. Professor Dr. Anna Amelina is the Chair of Intercultural Studies at BTU Cottbus-Senftenberg,

The lecture is part of a lecture series in the context of the MIKOSS project. This joint project unites the three universities of the UA Ruhr university alliance, including the University of Duisburg-Essen, the Ruhr University Bochum and the TU Dortmund University.

If you would like to participate in this online lecture, please register by 12th July 2022 by sending an email to mikoss@uni-due.de.

We are looking forward to you seeing you there and to having a lively discussion!
